Peter A. Joy, Kevin C. McMunigal : Do No Wrong: Ethics for Prosecutors and Defenders before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Do No Wrong: Ethics for Prosecutors and Defenders:

Criminal law practice is a minefield of legal ethics issues for both the prosecution and defense. There are a myriad of ethical questions requiring not only an understanding of the relevant ethics rules, but also applicable constitutional and statutory law as well as rules of criminal procedure and evidence. This book aims to put these and other ethical questions on the radar screens of criminal practitioners.
