There are numerous courses one can go on to find out from lawyers about all aspects of report writing and how to behave when in court, yet, until now, no books aimed specifically at the psychiatrist to give them an understanding of what their legal colleagues require from them, particularly for psychiatrists who just wanted an understanding before committing. Written for the UK psychiatrist, this book is edited by Danny Allen, author of We Need It By Next Thursday and It's a Shrinking Business. Recommended for psychiatrists and lawyers alike. 2nd edition.
