

(Mobile ebook) Every Nonprofit's Guide to Publishing: Creating Newsletters, Magazines Websites People Will Read (book with CD-Rom)

Every Nonprofit's Guide to Publishing: Creating Newsletters, Magazines Websites People Will Read (book with CD-Rom)

Cheryl Woodard, Lucia Hwang

DOC | *audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

#689218 in Books NOLO 2007-06-30Original language:EnglishPDF # 2 9.00 x 1.25 x 7.001, 1.62 #File Name: 1413306586440 pages | File size: 23.Mb

Cheryl Woodard, Lucia Hwang : Every Nonprofit's Guide to Publishing: Creating Newsletters, Magazines Websites People Will Read (book with CD-Rom) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Every Nonprofit's Guide to Publishing: Creating Newsletters, Magazines Websites People Will Read (book with CD-Rom):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great book, fast delivery, great price.By MaverickGreat book, and priced right. I setup corporations as serve as a senior business consultant for attorneys and individuals alike, and each year but the NOLO and Entrepreneur publications to stay updated and for additional insider information. I find them easy to understand, and their information reliable. Laws, and procedures change, so it's important to update these books regularly.6 of 6 people found the following review helpful. Wonderful resource and teaching toolBy Tracey LawrenceI use this as a textbook for Masters students learning to construct workflows for delivery of multiple media projects. This book gets them thinking about the cost of delivering an entity's message in terms of resources, effectiveness for various audiences and the learning curve involved for those participating. The topics covered apply to ANY business model, not just non-profits. Efficient use of limited resources is appropriate for everyone. Nicely done.1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Purchase #3By David BoraMy thoughts about this product echo what I said about Purchase #1: It was very good about delivering the goods about what goes into producing the typical publication. A medium difficulty read, but worth the perusing.

Everything you need to raise awareness, membership and money! Nonprofits have certain advantages - passion, motivation, a sense of purpose. But to raise the money and support required to achieve your goals, you need to communicate your mission effectively. You can do it -- let Every Nonprofit's Guide to Publishing show you how! Practical and hands on, this book shows you how to overcome inexperience and budget constraints -- and produce publications that effectively promote your cause. From developing an idea to distributing the final publication, you'll get the information you need. Find out how to: design and print engaging magazines or newsletters create an appealing website locate the best freelancers and vendors develop successful ad sales and fundraising strategies meet IRS and postal requirements for nonprofits use time-tested publishing ideas and resources The book includes practical suggestions from veteran insiders, whose experiences range from tiny nonprofit startups to large, established organizations. The CD-ROM provides essential forms, checklists, schedules, worksheets, spreadsheets and more.

This comprehensive guide covers -- in an informative and lively way -- everything you'll need to manage your publication from concept to finished product. (Timothy Lyster The Nonprofit Quarterly 2009-01-01)Discusses how organizations can overcome budget constraints and inexperience to produce products that will promote their cause... (ForeWard Magazine 2009-01-01)Offers invaluable advice for creating print and online publications that will grab an audience -- and stir them to action -- without overspending your budget. (Jay Harris Mother Jones 2009-01-01)Do not lift a finger to start a nonprofit publishing venture before reading every page of this book. (Mark Dowie Mother Jones magazine 2009-01-01)The authors understand what it's like to work with little money and too much to do. It is great for training others or for answering your own questions... (John Griffin National Geographic 2009-01-01)A practical, example-filled resource from two publishing experts who've been there, done that. This kind of experience-based advice is priceless... (Holly Brady Stanford Publishing Courses 2009-01-01)About the AuthorCheryl Woodard learned the publishing business like most people do -- by jumping bravely into it without any preparation whatsoever. She co-founded PC, Macworld, PC World and Publish magazines, concentrating her attention on ad sales, circulation marketing and business management issues. In 1993, Cheryl began consulting with book, software, newsletter and magazine publishers. Author of Starting Running a Successful Newsletter or Magazine, she specializes in helping business owners or chief executives sort out marketing and overall business strategies. Woodard teaches business planning at the Stanford Professional Publishing Course and other professional development programs. She also serves on the board of directors of the Independent Press Association in San Francisco. She lives with her husband and two children in Berkeley, California. She can be reached via her Web site at: <http://www.publishingbiz.com> .Lucia Hwang is an award-winning investigative reporter and feature writer. Since 2004, she has worked as the editor for the magazine of a nonprofit association. Hwang has been a staff and freelance writer for a wide variety of publications -- ranging from daily newspapers to alternative weeklies to magazines -- and has also taught investigative reporting and news writing. She is a graduate of the University of California, Berkeley and the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism.